

Among children in low income, the number in working families has risen sharply in the last few years whilst the number in workless ones has been falling since the mid-1990s

Source: Household Below Average Income, DWP; Great Britain; updated Sep 2010